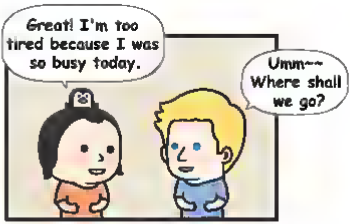
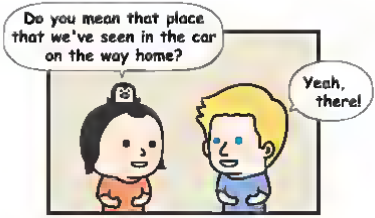
Walk, Walk and Walk

After Mev and I went to a bank in the town centre, we suddenly decided to have a meal out.



I thought that it was a good idea because I was very tired after a very busy day.

We were thinking about where to go



We choose a pub that we always wanted to try but it was a little far away.

So we started to walk towards the pub.

10 minutes... 20 minutes...

30 minutes... 40 minutes...

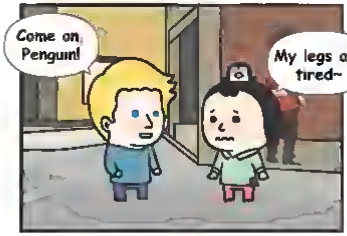
1 hour...
Although we had walked far a long time we were still far from the pub.

I was exhausted and hungry,
I started to moan.

I'm exhausted
Cheer up! We're almost there.

Haaah~~

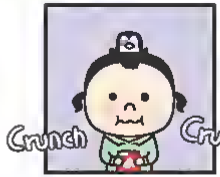
Mev thought about the time that we went to London together a few years ago.



We walked around all day,
Mev and I were both very tired.

I kept on complaining.

Finally we bought a bag of crisps at the supermarket.



Mev said,
as soon as I held the bag in my hand,...

... I was silent.

And
when I finished my crisps,...

I'm tired.

... I started to moan immediately afterwards.

So since that day,
If I turn into a moaner
while we're walking for a long time,...

... he makes sure that I eat something.

... so I can shut up.
